Buying Drive Is Now Big Aim Of NRA Leaders

Believe Latent Buying Power Of Nation To Keep Business Improving

STILL CONSIDERING COAL INDUSTRY CODE

Growing Split Between Labor And Industry Is Worry To NRA Director

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The national recovery administration turned with increasing confidence today to the latent buying power of the public to keep business on the upward grade.

With a new spirit of conciliation enveloping all NRA deliberations, Hugh S. Johnson, administrator, and his aides, were completing plans for the most extensive buying campaign ever inaugurated by a governmental agency.

To Start Buying Power.

Workers have been notified to prepare to start a three months drive beginning September 20 to induce consumers to "buy now" empty store shelves of goods and keep factories busy supplying new wants.

While proposals to set quotas for the 10,000 classified communities of the nation were being considered, it was expected that a general appeal with a deluge of information designed to show the advantage of immediate buying will be the policy of the campaign.

The action of the recovery administration in extending the olive branch to bituminous coal operators and the announced refusal of Johnson to start into a campaign of force to protect the blue eagle was added evidence of a new intention to make the basis of the recovery movement a patriotic appeal.

Serious Threat.

The most serious threat to the NRA, in the opinion of officials, was the growing split between industry and labor.

Conflicts and signs of impending strife were evidenced on all sides, despite the desperate attempts of Johnson and the national labor board to maintain peace.

A showdown in the method of the NRA in enforcing labor provisions of codes was presented by the rule—

PA NEW OBSERVES

It's quite a testimonial to the worth of the Pennsylvania state police and the Pennsylvania highway patrol, that bandits who commit any depredations along the Ohio border of Pennsylvania, immediately flee across the Ohio state line in their efforts at escape. Ohio is without state police or state highway police organizations.

Football fans are all on edge. The lid will be kicked off the season locally on Friday night at Taggart stadium. The Braddock high squad will be here to do battle with the Ne-Ca-Hi lads.

Pa New has a new mascot for the editorial rooms. This morning a package came from one of the family who is visiting the world's fair, and when opened it was found to contain a small live turtle, and it is now in its new home in a bowl atop a desk. No doubt from time to time there will be news of its growth and progress as a member of the family.

Vote In Three More States Favors Repeal

(International News Service)
ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 13.—An avalanche of wet ballots in the cities placed Minnesota, home state of Andrew J. Volstead, in the repeal procession today with a vote of better than 2 to 1 in favor of wiping out national prohibition.

Returns from 1,693 of the state's 3,693 precincts gave 273,350 votes for repeal of the 18th amendment and 126,550 against.

Repealists conceded that the rural vote might reduce the wet majority to some extent, but were confident that a margin of more than 2 to 1 would be maintained.

Johnson Says Country Lifted One Quarter Out Of Depression At Present

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Under the vigorous leadership of President Roosevelt, the country today has been lifted "one quarter of the way" out of the depression since last March, "and the fight has just begun" Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, told an audience at Madison Square Garden.

Addressing 10,000 persons gathered under the auspices of the foreign language section of the city NRA committee, the leader of the president's war on depression last night lashed out at those opposing the recovery program, appealed for continued confidence and cooperation and declared that "industry is being freed."

"I know you will all be heartened to know the standard of the recovery organization is mighty," Johnson said. "I have just come from Washington, where our last word was that 85 per cent of all employers of the nation have enrolled under the NRA."

Johnson told his audience "here are signs of a broad advance everywhere" and that "every economic index has moved substantially upward since last March."

The NRA leader's address, first he had made here since he took office, was a "curtain raiser" for the city's monster NRA demonstration today culminating in a parade of more than 250,000 marchers up Fifth avenue—one of the greatest processions in the city's history. Stores, banks, offices and the principal exchanges all declared a half holiday to permit employees to participate.

No Substitution On NRA Agreement After October 1

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—A deadline of Oct. 1 was announced today by Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, after which firms must comply with the president's reemployment agreement without substitution.

Johnson will no longer approve substitution of codes by industries of less than 1,000 employees. These must agree with the blanket code and if unable to comply, must agree for exception. About 85 per cent of industries and trades which now operate under the blue eagle have signed the president's agreement only after substitution.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 13.—Another sensational out of court development marked the Lamson murder case today.

Recovery Board Seeks To Prevent New Coal Strike

National Labor Board Steps Into Situation In Bituminous Field

SHARP REVERSAL IN NRA POLICY

Revisions In Administration's Proposed Coal Code Being Made

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The labor relations machinery of the NRA was thrown into action today to halt threatened coal strikes in widely separated parts of the bituminous coal fields.

With thousands of miners already out in western Pennsylvania and reports of "vacations" in other fields until a coal code is approved, recovery officials felt apprehensive.

While the steps taken by the National Labor Board and other agencies were not announced, it is understood that the aid of President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers was invoked to keep the men at work.

Committees named to consider revision of the administration's coal code were busily engaged today, but the negotiations may extend over a period of several days.

Policy Reversed

A sharp reversal of the policy of the NRA to enforce a blanket code for every division in the coal industry may pave the way to a peaceful settlement.

NRA officials still insisted there would be one code, but modifications—

There's an air of expectation and some quiet jubilation, midst the candidates who ponder on just what the score will be, as they sit and guess their total, and just what they think their vote'll be upon next Tuesday evening when we see what we shall see. They have argued and debated and have asked just how they're rated, and they pass a million cards or more amongst the populace, and some few will get a lacing other candidates are bracing and a few may yet get out of it to save their well known face. But the candidates still ponder and they argue and they wonder as to what their vote will total, on the evening of the fray, and the voter doesn't mention which one he will give attention, all of which is most confusing, weather's seventy three today.

lions would be included to give greater self-government to the various regions.

This is the original proposal of the coal operators, with modifications. Twenty-eight codes were presented on the ground that sectional differences required separate treatment. The entire industry, however, is divided into five distinct groups.

Under the new suggestion, emanating from general counsel Donald R. Richberg, the Appalachian operators, central competitive field and far south sections of the industry might be treated differently.

Less Government Control

Greater autonomy within the regions also was under consideration, with less government control. It was the proposal of the NRA for virtually complete control of the coal industry that prompted Alabama operators to declare they would refuse to accept it, and Appalachian operators to protest almost as vehemently.

Meanwhile technical committees of the Appalachian operators and the United Mine Workers of America were continuing their effort to negotiate a union contract.

Officials of the union said that real progress had been made in the negotiations. They were hopeful that no obstacle would arise to prevent a complete agreement.

ing of the national labor board holding that workers can choose outside union spokesmen to deal with employers.

The board of which Senator Wagner of New York, is chairman, held that refusal of the Berkeley Woolen Mills of Martinsburg, W. Va., to deal with outside representatives of labor was a violation of the textile code.

Whether the NRA will attempt to enforce the labor provisions or whether labor shall invoke aid of the courts or strike may be determined if both sides refuse to peaceably settle the dispute.

See New Labor Proposal.

A new labor proposal may arise out of the impasse reached in the silk textile hearing. With the hearing postponed, Senator Wagner was to arrange a mediation conference between capital and labor.

Blunt notice was served by Thomas F. McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers of America, that the silk strike would continue and expand unless the code was revised. He demanded an $18 a week minimum and the 30-hour week.

Fixing of minimum wages for classes of silk textile employees—instead of only a minimum wage for the unskilled—was being urged by some high NRA officials.

Confidence that a bituminous coal code will be worked out was voiced by Johnson as committees worked on the disputed points.

The announcement of general counsel Richberg that the NRA would consider modification of the general code to provide for regional or divisional agreements was regarded as a concession to the factions fighting one code.

Revision of the coal code may require several days.

UNITING THE AMERICAS

THE proposal of President Rodriguez of Mexico that an American league of nations be formed for dealing with international questions affecting the countries of this hemisphere contains interesting possibilities.

It recognizes that the American nations have problems peculiar to themselves and that means of solving these peacefully and without intervention of outside agencies should be found. His suggestion for creating an association of American nations is expected to take concrete form at the Pan-American conference in Montevideo in December, when Mexican representatives will propose the formation of an inter-American court of justice and an inter-American labor office.

The Mexican president's ideas relative to binding the Americas together closely approach an economic Monroe doctrine for these nations. Economic cooperation of all American nations would be fostered under the plan.

To what extent his views may be regarded as reflecting those of other American nations is unknown. They bear a close resemblance, however, to policies of the United States in its relations with its southern neighbors, and Washington support for his program would cause no surprise.

This is not the first time that such a plan has been advocated. The fact that the Mexican president now has taken hold of it is a promising development to those who believe the idea a practical and worthwhile one.

Cooperation among the nations of this hemisphere to foster peace and the economic welfare of the participants would be a development of world-wide importance. The movement is one deserving of the most serious study. That a workable plan can be agreed upon is a strong probability if recognized leaders in the different nations get behind it.

PUBLIC WORKS NEED TIME

Secretary Ickes' call for speed in getting the national public works program under way is designed to provide wholesale employment and activity and wisely administered can create some large scale improvements that will be welcomed even though we might have managed to get along without them for a while under normal conditions. Naturally there is general impatience to see the plan in operation and to enjoy some of the benefits it promises.

But upon this point eagerness encounters the inherent weakness of gigantic public works programs as an immediate cure for unemployment. Vast enterprises move slowly from the visionary inception to the pick and shovel stage. Even under full steam the machinery of government is a ponderous affair.

Like the steam roller, a public works program may be effective in the long run, but it does not lend itself to a speed dash. Immediate benefits may lie in the public confidence created by the promise of what is ahead but the tangible results take time.

A TIME FOR CONCILIATION

No one is better qualified than Senator Wagner to make an appeal at this time for a conciliatory attitude on the part of both employers and employees. As chairman of the National Labor Board in which both classes are represented, he is in a position to smooth out some of the difficulties which threaten the success of the National Recovery program. He says, truly enough, that the Board has "the keenest desire and every facility for promoting a new regime of harmony and general welfare."

He further suggests that, when the emergency is over, the Board will still be of great service. An impartial tribunal of the sort could be appealed to by both sides with the utmost confidence. But the Board, as Senator Wagner adds, needs the backing of the public as well as of the Administration. It has been appointed, in the first place, as an essential part of the plan for the return of prosperity to industry. Unless it can compose the differences that inevitably arise among the various interests concerned, it will fail to achieve its purpose. The chairman therefore asks them "to forget all feuds, to put aside the idea that the success of one group depends upon defeating the other," and to support the President by submitting their disputes to the Board. The wisdom of this advice is obvious. While employees should refrain as such a critical moment from engaging in ill-considered strikes, "employees must not take unfair advantage of the Government's 'no strike' policy by refusing the just demands of workers or by non-recognition of the right to organize."

This is nothing but sound common sense. The National Recovery act will not work without a spirit of conciliation on both sides. Arbitration is a necessary step towards the settlement of disputes, labor or other. As the Senator puts it, "Strikes and discharges should be the last resort, not the first." The depression can not be lifted without sincere co-operation on both sides. There is too much at stake to permit any cessation of work. The labor disturbances which have already taken place have hindered to some extent the efforts to arrange satisfactory codes. Senator Wagner says that these establish only minimum wages, which should not be allowed to become maximum wages, and that scales must be revised to meet economic conditions. This is a task for those intimately concerned to accomplish. If a spirit of selfishness and conflict prevails, there can be permanent industrial peace. This view, which undoubtedly represents that of the Board, is the only logical one to take.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

WHAT ARE WE PROUD OF?
We are "proud" of such curious things. We are proud:

Of having a hot temper. We say we inherited it from our ancestors and nothing can be done about it.
Of saying just what we think.
Of being drunkards.
Of never changing our decisions.
Of snap judgment.
Of not liking a particular food.
Of a big nose, or a square chin, or small feet, or blue eyes, or a wave in the hair.

Of disliking cats.
Of being unable to sleep if there's a bit of light in the room.
Of our ability to spell.
Of having a title in the family.
Of not having a title in the family.

Of our sensitiveness.
Of our hard-boiled natures.
Of our carelessness, our wastefulness, our inability to make friends easily.

Of our high-strung temperament.
Of our headaches.
The list could go on and on and on and fill a long column. And every item in the list is usually a flaw in our natures something we know is a fault but which is precious to us and we think entirely personal. We could get along better without it. We dislike it in other people the weakness of which we are so proud, but when we encounter it in ourselves, we acclaim it as a special characteristic that makes us different—and somehow we do want to be different from other people.

How do I know so much? Because I think I know ME. I catch myself defending and praising qualities in myself that I should deplore and I know it's because I'm too lazy or too weak to root them out.... Once I heard a man say, "I'm the meanest, blindest, blank in the whole world"—and he said it proudly.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

DORA AND NIRA

A woman's name may valor mark,
Command or generalship may men—
Boadicea, Joan of Arc,
Catherine the Great, the Virgin Queen.

So, too, may little feminine
Attain to wartime acts and laws
May better help a fight to win
Or best promote a noble cause.

When England in the war days found
That measures harsh must be installed,
Defence of Realm Act, stern, profound,
By all was promptly Dora called.

One must do this, could not do that.
The Realm's defence must count instead
So, in obedience firm and flat,
Each Briton did what Dora said.

In different war we Yanks engage;
Now all of us are bluntly told
Henceforth our job, our hours, our age,
By Nira only be controlled!

BRIGHTNESS

You may be bright—even more intelligent than those who have made a more public success.
And you have been surprised that certain persons have been able to advance in a bigger way, while you have achieved so little worthy of note.

But isn't it true that you have depended too much upon your natural brightness?

You want to win success with a minimum of effort.

In minor ways you have been able to do this.
In school, for instance, you were able to get good marks and seldom "cracked a book" as you are fond of saying.

When you should have been studying you spent your time amusing yourself and others or carrying out some sort of devilry.

The lessons were arranged for those of ordinary mental power but you had an unusually quick mind and so could slide through easily.

If you will examine the records of the top you'll find practice, perseverance and a habit of "combing fine."

If you had applied the same to your course you might have reached far more worthy position than they.

Too much mental capacity has caused many a downfall.

Young Oswald was surely an officious young man as every one in the firm's employ agreed. He always was hornin' in where he was not wanted, and too, he had a highly exalted opinion of himself.

One trouble with the economic situation is that too many persons are waiting to "hear something," that from that time on America was going to fight with every ounce of strength it possessed to pull off the reef. At that moment the American people were probably more nearly of one mind and one purpose than they had ever been in their lives before. They knew they had found a leader who would not falter in the effort to steer them back once more to a safe and untroubled anchorage. As the ship moved on and sailing directions were given they saw how the course was being charted.

Consumer Support Essential To National Recovery Program

American People Now Undergoing Test Which Early Reports Indicate Will Show Enthusiastic Response

With the codes of the major industries well on the way to completion, the press of the nation turns its attention to what may well be the crux of the recovery program of navigation. However unusual the course may seem we are confident that we are going to fetch port in the end."

Roosevelt's application of "democracy and Americanism" is ascribed by the ATLANTA JOURNAL to the fact that the people are following him with a "rare singleness of heart."

Counting upon this widespread consumer cooperation a nationwide "Buy Now" campaign has been instituted and its result is being carefully watched. As the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS points out, "the consumer holds the key to the situation. Obviously to keep up a heavier payroll the employer must sell his products, stock in trade or services at a fair profit. He possesses no unlimited reserves of capital or credit upon which to draw for paying out wages. The buying public must provide the where-withal."

"Buy Now" month is the way the OAKLAND TRIBUNE designates this crucial month of September. It urges this course as "a patriotic way to co-operate with the recovery program, for each dollar spent aids in furnishing work and bettering the times. It is also," continues this paper, "a matter of hard sense to join the movement, one for self-help and self-profit. The buyer gets bargains he cannot hope for with rising prices coming; he gets more for his money than he may get again in years. While he is doing this he is giving his individual support to one of the largest and most vital programs this Government has ever undertaken."

The same paper comments upon one of the difficulties confronting the public when it declares that "the Buyer's campaign can succeed only if it

The joke went the rounds in Troy, and as a vast amount of purchases passed through Wilson's hands, he was "kidded" about the extent of his possessions. Newspapers which "exchanged" with Troy's weekly clipped & reprinted the jokes, gave Wilson a national reputation. TRUSTEES HEAR OF LIBRARY ACTIVITY

Board In September Session—
Adds Worker To Children's Staff

One hundred and fifty-one new borrowers were listed in the files of the New Castle Free Public Library during August, and the circulation for that period amounted to 23,430 books, Miss Alice M. Sterling, city librarian, reported to the library's board of trustees at their monthly meeting last night.

Because of increased school activity, the board reemployed Miss Florence Paul to assist Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, Monday, September 18. Miss Paul had been with the library up until several months ago.

Miss Sterling reported that the library's first suit against a borrower for failure to return books was settled by the return of the books, payment of the price of the books and payment of alderman costs incurred. It was the first time the new state law inflicting a penalty on indifferent borrowers was enforced here.

The August circulation of the library, the librarian informed the board, dropped 13 percent below the August, 1932 percentage. The adult circulation gained 5.9 percent, and the juvenile lost 20 percent. Over the first eight months of last year the circulation has gained 3.7 percent.

Donors to the library during the past month were Mary Harris, Mrs. Laura Linton, Mrs. A. R. Pitzer and the United States Shipping board.

With the return of Miss Paul to the children's department, next Monday, that department's hours will be from 11:30 a. m. to 8 p. m., daily, and 11:30 a. m. to 6 p. m., Saturdays. During the summer the department was not open evenings.

Lindbergh Tests Plane In Sweden

Military Experts Amazed At Flying Prowess Of American Ace Aviator

(International News Service)
 STOCKHOLM, Sept. 14.—Military experts expressed astonishment today at Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's flying prowess after the American aviator staged a remarkable performance at the Barkarby airfield in a new type of airplane with which he was unfamiliar.

The plane was one of a type which has caused much criticism in aviation circles. A similar machine recently crashed, killing three persons. Col. Lindbergh took off in the craft and went through an advanced program of looping and tailspins. After the test he received the thanks of experts for his views regarding the craft.

TERRAPLANE OWNERS GAIN PROTECTION

There's a thrill in driving an Essex Terraplane. Get the most from your car this winter. Protect its cooling-system against freezing and rust. Be prepared for the first cold snap. Frozen radiators and cracked engine-blocks cost money.

Put in Eveready Prestone before the freeze. It won't boil away, or heat up your motor. At $2.95 a gallon, it's your most economical buy.

It brings two-way protection—guards your car against freezing and rust. The Essex Terraplane 6, '33, can be protected to zero for $2.95—giving you a full winter of safe, rust-free (and trouble-free) driving. For other models and makes, see your dealer's chart.

Eveready Prestone is approved by all car manufacturers. Fully guaranteed by National Carbon Co., Inc., New York, N. Y.

*September 30, is the average first freezing day for New Castle. Put in Eveready Prestone now—and play safe.

Liquor Runners Tipped On Moves By Coast Guards

For Seven Years Liquor
Rings Knew Every Move
That Coast Guard
Ships Made

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Booze-ring, smuggling liquor into New York, had information directly from coast guard headquarters, over a seven year period, of every government move to trap them.
That information came directly from headquarters of the New York Coast Guard division, and it saved the run runners between $20,000,000 and $50,000,000, according to federal estimates, over a period in which the arrangement was in effect.
Revelation of the startling situation came today when Assistant U.
S. Attorney George Pfann admitted that two men, one a former non-commissioned officer of the Coast Guard service and the other still in service, are formally charged with conspiracy.
William Robert Wharton, for seven years a yeoman in the service, assigned to the communications section, resigned May 28, 1933, and recommended his successor, according to government agents.
Wharton is now on $7,500 bail,
after a secret arraignment before United States Commissioner Garrett Cotter ten days ago. The other Coast Guardsman, still unnamed, is in custody at the Coast Guard base at Staten Island, facing court martial next week at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.
The entire Coast Guard, it was said today, is in a state of turmoil over the charges, and predictions were freely made that a wholesale shakeup will follow.

Three Persons Struck By Autos

Two Of Injured Are Taken To Jameson Memorial Hospital Tuesday

WOMAN SUFFERS BROKEN COLLAR BONE

Three pedestrians were injured Tuesday afternoon and evening when struck by automobiles as they were crossing the several streets on which the accidents occurred. Two of the accident victims were taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital. None of the persons injured is considered to have sustained serious injuries.

Woman Is Injured.
Mrs. Maude West, 56, of 126 West North street, sustained a fracture of the collar bone when struck by the car of John Kelly, rear 16 Spring street, while being driven east on West North street between Norris way and Shenango street by James A. Flynn of 19 North Beaver street. Mrs. West was crossing West North street when knocked to the street.

Edith Stanley and James Kennedy assisted in pickup up Mrs. West, who was placed in the car of a Mr. Sheen and removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where the nature of her injury was determined. John Nader of 15 North Beaver street was riding in the machine at the time. The injuries of Mrs. West are not considered serious.

Boy Is Struck.
Bernard Seiler, 8, of 516 Hillcrest avenue, sustained lacerations of the scalp and minor injuries when struck by the car of William Price of Enon Valley while being driven by Effie Price, at Highland and Norwood avenues, on Tuesday afternoon. The Price car was enroute north on Highland avenue, as the little boy ran across the street to meet his father, who had just gotten off the street car. The boy was struck by the right front part of the automobile. He hung onto the front bumper of the car as long as he could, then fell to the ground and as he did so he sustained the lacerations on the back of his head and other minor injuries.

He was picked up by Charles Garrett of 1703 Highland avenue and he and his father were taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital from a nearby house to which the boy was removed temporarily by the police car, which answered a call to the scene. He is being detained in the hospital for observation.

Seventh Ward Accident.
Leo Ellsworth, 10, of Clayton street sustained a bruised condition of the left leg when struck by the automobile of James William Hamilton of 50 South Lee avenue, at West Madison avenue and Lafayette street, as he was running across Madison avenue. Mr. Hamilton was enroute west on Madison avenue as the boy ran across the street in front of his car. As the boy was struck by the car he fell down and slid along side of one of the front wheels of the car. A passerby picked him up and Mr. Hamilton took him to the office of a doctor, where it was found that he had apparently escaped serious injury.

Legion Members Hear Report Of State Convention

Also Discuss National Convention Plans At Meeting Last Night

Details of the train arrangements to take Legionnaires from this part of Western Pennsylvania to Chicago, were explained Tuesday night when the Perry S. Gaston Post held its monthly meeting. The men were told the price, the route, and the number of days necessary to spend in Chicago. The national convention takes place in Chicago on October 3-4-5.

Major Guy J. Wadlinger who attended the state convention in Philadelphia spoke at the meeting Tuesday night and described the convention, its action upon matters pertaining to ex-service men and the results of the election.

The proposed amendment to the state constitution, which will clear the way for the state to pay bonuses to ex-service men was discussed at length Tuesday night and the approval of the local Legionnaires given it. After the primary of next Tuesday it is likely that a committee of ex-service men will be formed to generate interest in the bonus amendment.

Hawk Surrendered By His Bondsmen

Hawk faces forty indictments arising from alleged real estate swindles. He has been free since July 18, when he posted $41,000 in property bonds to secure his appearance at court. The cases involve about $250,000. Hawk was surrendered to court by Mr. and Mrs. Max Hansburg, two of the 14 persons who had signed his bond. He must furnish a new bond for $13,000 or go to jail.

Quaint Old Economite Community Threatened With Extinction Now

AMBRIDGE, Sept. 13.—The quaint old village of Economy, scene of an early American experiment in communism—and a pretty successful one, too—is threatened with extinction as one of western Pennsylvania's historical landmarks.

Where once the "Economites" labored and prospered for 75 years in "Christian Communism" only a few buildings now stand, and their existence, historians assert, is endangered by a lack of funds for maintenance.

A move to preserve the century-old village has been started by Dr. Andrew Avinoff, director of Pittsburgh's Carnegie Museum who fears the buildings may fall into complete disrepair and valuable relics be lost. "Such a landmark cannot be replaced," says Dr. Avinoff. "It's worth to students, not only of past but of present economic experiments can hardly be measured. Founded in 1824 by George Rapp,

PREPARE WINTER QUARTERS FOR FORESTRY ARMY

Rush Work On New Barracks

Standard Types Of Barracks Are To Be Erected In State District

WINTER CLOTHING SUPPLIES ARE SENT

(Special To The News)
BALTIMORE, Sept. 13.—Preparations for adequate housing and clothing of the 30,000 members of the Civilian Conservation Corps in the Third Corps Area during cold weather moved forward rapidly today as plans were completed for standard type of barracks to be erected in each of the 154 camps.

Colonel Patrick W. Guiney, Corps Area Quartermaster, under Maj. General Paul B. Malone, today announced that he would receive bids on September 19 for 18,000,000 feet of lumber required for camp construction, fifty percent of which must be delivered at the railroad of each camp within twenty one days and the balance before the end of thirty days from date of award of contract.

Rush Work.
Although full authorization to proceed with construction from the director of emergency conservation work through the war department was not received until five days ago, so much of the plans as could be anticipated was already underway and completion of details has been rushed to gain all possible time for construction before cold weather.

Actual construction is to be done locally by hired labor under the immediate direction of camp commanders with an engineer officer on the staff of sub-district commanders exercising general supervision. Six standard type of barrack buildings will be constructed at each camp, five of them to house forty-two men each and the sixth to house the officers and forestry superintendents, together with the medical dispensary and administration office.

One Story Buildings.
The buildings will be single story, tar paper covered and for majority of camps, particularly in the colder sections, will be lined with beaver boarding. In addition there will be a heated bath house, cold insulation for the water supply and heating stoves in all barracks. While final decision has not been reached as to the lighting for each camp, plans are being considered and where possible electric lighting will be provided.

Army ranges have already been requisitioned to replace the old field ranges for cooking in the mess halls while "Sibley" stoves are being supplied to all camps for heating tents until the more permanent quarters are made ready for occupancy. Supplies of winter clothing are now being assembled in the various supply depots and will be ready for issue to the camps as soon as the new enrollments are completed between the first and fifteenth of next month. This clothing designed for comfort in cold weather as well as practical form for out-door work will include lumber jacks, jerkins, heavy woolen outer and underclothing, some kind of heavy overshoes and winter caps.

Salary Equalizing Starts In Capital

Reclassification Of State Employees As To Salaries Finds Many Getting Cuts

One Official Slashed $2,900 In Pay; Salary Axe Drops Heavily In Departments

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Sept. 13.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot's reclassification of state employees on the basis of "equal pay for equal work" today showed that salaries of some officials were slashed as much as $2,900 while increases ranged up to $900.

The work of the governor's special committee will be reflected in employees' pay checks Friday. The revision of pay and duties of 2,960 employees will bring an annual saving of $139,921. The annual payroll was $14,237,643 for 7,363 persons before the new plan became effective on September 1.

Nearly half of the persons affected by the revision were in the group earning less than $1,600 a year. Two hundred ninety-nine in this class were granted increases while 573 suffered a pay reduction.

Reclassification of salaries of clerks and stenographers brought approximately 400 changes. The majority of increases were received by persons earning between $900 and $1,000 a year. Most of the salaries were boosted to the $1,000 figure.

Axe Drops Heavily. The salary axe dropped heavily on workers who were earning between $1,200 and $1,300 before the new plan was invoked. The decreases established an average pay of $1,140 for this type of worker.

One hundred six increases were granted to employees in the salary class from $1,600 to $3,000. Reductions were made in 33 cases. In the higher pay scales, 52 persons drawing from $3,000 to $5,500 received increases while 90 in the $3,000 to $9,000 division took cuts.

Roy B. Ross, administrative assistant in the state workmen's insurance funds, had $2,900 shorn from his $5,000 salary. F. H. Smith, comptroller in the mining department, was given the largest pay increase, $900.

Large Reductions. Other large reductions included: Harvey N. Shroyer, mine inspector, $4,080 to $3,000; Hubert C. Eicher, director of school buildings, C. Valentine Kirby, Frank H. Reiter, Gertrude MacKinney, James G. Penitz, all in the department of public instruction, cut from $6,000 to $5,000.

H. W. Harrison, statistician, $4,440 to $3,000; C. C. Albright, engineer, $5,400 to $4,200; Howard W. Fry, administrative assistant, $5,800 to $4,200; Harry Trebleox, adjuster, $4,000 to $3,000; C. W. Hunt and Helen G. Tyson, deputies, $7,500 to $6,850 and $6,000 to $5,000 respectively; Dr. B. L. Scott, director of correction, $6,000 to $5,000; Dr. William C. Sanddy, director of mental health, $8,000 to $5,000; Joseph B. Keating, investigator, $3,600 to $2,400; Charles H. Graff, deputy insurance commissioner, $7,500 to $7,000.

Among the pay increases were: Armand E. Keely, engineer, $5,400 to $6,000; George W. Krick, Jr., engineer, $1,800 to $2,400; Ernestine G. Lewis, executive assistant, $3,600 to $4,200; Richard Stickle, director of motor vehicles, $3,900 to $4,500; Richard Heagy, chief clerk in the governor's office, $4,620 to $5,000; Helen E. Pierce, secretary, $2,400 to $3,000; Herman S. Armstrong, executive assistant, $2,400 to $3,000.

New Bank Will Soon Be Opened

New Wilmington Bank To Be Known As Depositors National Bank

With 331 shares of stock already sold, over 100 more shares promised, and the total number of stock sales in sight, preliminary steps towards the organization of the new bank in New Wilmington have been taken and a new Depositors National bank seems assured within a short time.

At a meeting of depositors held last night the result of the stock sales was announced and these results, shown above, were secured after only about ten per cent of the depositors had been seen. As a courtesy to the depositors who have made the new bank possible the name will be Depositors National bank. A charter has already been applied for and another meeting of depositors called for next Monday night, September 18, when it is expected all shares will have been sold.

Just how soon it will be possible to open the new bank is not known. It will operate in the quarters of the present First National bank, and will use the equipment and fixtures now in use. Under the arrangement with the treasury department, 50 per cent of the deposits of the present First National will be available, and all liquid assets of the present bank taken over. The slow loans and other assets will be liquidated as fast as possible and the money turned over to the depositors.

Since the bank holiday the First National has been operating under a restricted permit. All deposits in the bank before the holiday have been permitted against accounts opened since that time. C. P. Cloak has been acting as conservator of the bank.

Among the pay increases were: Armand E. Keely, engineer, $5,400 to $6,000; George W. Krick, Jr., engineer, $1,800 to $2,400; Ernestine G. Lewis, executive assistant, $3,600 to $4,200; Richard Stickle, director of motor vehicles, $3,900 to $4,500; Richard Heagy, chief clerk in the governor's office, $4,620 to $5,000; Helen E. Pierce, secretary, $2,400 to $3,000; Herman S. Armstrong, executive assistant, $2,400 to $3,000.

State Probably Will Stock Lake

Indications are that the state fish commission will authorize the stocking of the lake at Cascade Park, an official of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association said today. A survey has been made already by A. G. Buller of the Corry state hatchery. Almost 500 permits to licensed fishermen were issued by park superintendent, C. C. Coulter, this summer. If stocked the lake will become in time one of the best places for fishing in this section.

Gen. Johnson wants it understood that his eagle eye is upon those who refuse to comply with the recovery codes.—Lowell Evening Leader.

FOR REGISTER AND RECORDER

EDWIN O. REED

To Republican Voters of Lawrence County:

Any just appraisal of those asking for the Republican nomination for Register and Recorder will concede that they represent abundant ability to take care of the duties of the office. To argue otherwise would be foolish.

It is an open secret that the Democratic leaders desire to possess this office and hope to do so. This being true, the selection of the Republican nominee on September 19 takes on added significance. The question of availability has become important. The question of availability, in turn, is many-sided: it takes into consideration the personality of the candidate and his voting ability; his freedom from factional control; and the different sections of the county where his strength is apparent or pronounced. In the present condition of economic stress it calls for consideration of his viewpoint on questions which vitally affect the citizen and taxpayer. It raises a query in the minds of the members of his own party as to whether or not his presence will add strength to the ticket at the November election, and will help or hinder the successful nominees for other important offices.

We present the name of Edwin O. Reed of Mt. Jackson as one in whom the thoughtful voter may find his answer to all these questions.

Respectfully submitted,
EDWIN O. REED CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

Two Persons Hurt In Auto Accident

Both Are In The New Castle Hospital But Will Recover

Mrs. Anna Jane Gumto, of Pittsburgh, and Henry Robinson of this city, who were severely but not seriously injured in a collision between the cars in which they were riding on Butler and Maryland avenues on Monday evening, were today reported at the New Castle Hospital as getting along all right. Mrs. Gumto sustained a very deep laceration on the neck, while Mr. Robinson was hurt about the head and face. Both were injured by flying glass.

The accident occurred when H. W. Measel, R. D. No. 2 driving west on Butler avenue, was compelled to turn suddenly to the left as a New York license car came out of a service station directly in front of his machine. In doing so, he drove into the machine of Albert Gumto of Pittsburgh, which was enroute east. Henry Robinson who was riding with Mr. Measel was injured as was Mrs. Gumto in the other machine. Six Added To Faculty At College

Large Enrollment Results
In Increase Of Staff At Westminster

TWO NEW CASTLE MEN INCLUDED

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 13.—As upper class students began to arrive at Westminster college for the 82nd academic year which starts officially on Friday they found a number of new instructors and staff members with whom to become acquainted.

Six new instructors, five of whom replace others who either resigned or are on leave of absence, have been added to the staff. These include Dean Carl E. Rankin, formerly dean of Lingnan university, China, who has been given the office of dean and registrar with no teaching duties. This leaves Dr. Charles A. Freeman and Dr. James A. Swindler, former dean and registrar, free to devote their entire time to the departments of chemistry and physics, of which they are heads.

Miss Ada Isabel Peabody, a graduate of the University of Kansas and of Columbia university, is professor of public school music in place of Miss Florence M. Thomas, resigned. James V. Baker, a graduate of Oxford university, England and of the University of Pittsburgh, is instructor in history in place of Professor Leon S. Marshall, on leave of absence at Manchester university, England, where he won the English-Speaking Union scholarship.

Albert J. Tener, a graduate of Park college and a graduate student at the University of Chicago, has been appointed instructor in speech and dramatics and coach of debates. Mr. Tener takes the position held by Miss Ellen Cottrell.

Walter Eberich, New Castle, a graduate of the Colgate-Rochester Theological seminary and a member of the senior class at Westminster, will be a part-time instructor in German.

Francis E. Sowersby, New Castle, has been appointed instructor in accounting in place of Professor C. W. McKee, on leave of absence for the first semester due to illness.

Sowersby is a graduate of New Castle high school and of the Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania. He received the Certified Public Accountant degree from the state of Pennsylvania in 1932 and has been in business in New Castle as a public accountant since then. He will be a part-time instructor at the college.

Another addition to the staff is Jack Martin, Sharon, who has been made assistant football coach and an assistant in physical education. Miss Isabel Ramsey, a member of the college office staff, has been made assistant registrar.

New faculty committees which have much to do with making plans for the coming year include the freshman advisory group, headed by Dr. H. L. Davis, and of the courses committee, headed by Professor Ben Euwema.

Detroit Puzzled By Ford's Status

Ford Submits Lowest Bid For 99 New Cars, But City Officials Delay Action

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Sept. 13.—To buy or not to buy from Henry Ford.

That is the question that caused Detroit city officials to bite their fingernails Tuesday. For Detroit has suddenly awakened to the fact that it has a law which may compel the municipal government to "boycott" the products of Ford, the one man most responsible for the city's present size and power.

The matter was further complicated by the discovery that there is another city ordinance, conflicting with the first, which would make it mandatory for the city to buy 99 Ford cars regardless of Ford's failure to sign the motor code of the NRA.

The matter arose when John Gorman, city purchasing agent, opened bids for 99 new automobiles to be used as police scout cars. The Ford Motor Company was found to have submitted the lowest bid, $27,767.09. Then the two conflicting laws were discovered.

Attorney Delivers Constitution Talk

Lions Club Hears Timely Message By Attorney Long
On Tuesday

Praising the iron-clad features of America's constitution as the very thing that guards it against the enactment of unwise amendments, championed by self-seeking groups, and declaring that, if a change is really needed, the American people will see to it that it's made, Attorney Gilbert E. Long on Tuesday delivered a scholarly discourse on the "United States Constitution" at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club.

Constitution Day will be observed throughout the country on September 17, the 146th anniversary of the completion and adoption of the document. The message was appropriate to it.

Early in the address, the speaker traced the outstanding events which led to the constitution's adoption. He declared that three and one-half million people, scattered over a broad land, asserted their desire for a strong government when they brought about its adoption.

Turning to modern times, Attorney Long said that without a doubt there has arisen emergency legislation which may provoke constitutional questions, but he said that the American people still can "establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty without meddling with the constitution."

The Lions were invited, in a communication read by President Paul G. Dingley, to attend a regional meeting of Lions clubs at Butler on September 25. They were also urged to attend another regional conference at Pittsburgh on September 29th, when Secretary-General Melvin Jones will speak to the Lions of that section.

The club has set Saturday, September 23, as a tentative date for inspecting the vast Pymatuning dam area.

"Proud and glad to do our part"

WITH President Roosevelt's acceptance of the NRA Automobile Code, Chevrolet, the world's largest builder of motor cars, officially begins operations in accordance with the administration's recovery program.

Although the official code was signed only a few days ago, it will be of interest to Chevrolet's many friends to learn that the Chevrolet Motor Company started to carry out the spirit of today's recovery program over three years ago!

At that time, we put into operation a "share-the-work" plan, whereby our workmen cooperated in spreading the work to give more men jobs. By means of this plan, as well as by regulating hours of work per week to meet retail demand, and by building up parts stocks in lean seasons, it was possible to carry 33,000 men on our payroll through the depression. For eleven months of each year since 1929, we have kept our employment within 10 per cent of this average. We are justly proud of that record. We are also proud to say that Chevrolet workmen did not, at any time during the depression, become a burden on public welfare departments.

On August 1st of this year, Chevrolet announced a blanket wage increase as well as the adoption of a 7½-hour, 5-day week and the employment of 12,000 additional men. This wage increase was the second in the last 4 months, Chevrolet having been among the first to put a blanket wage increase into effect.

We feel that the President's recovery program deserves the whole-hearted support of every citizen and manufacturer in America. It is a bold, swift, courageous plan to start the ball rolling toward economic recovery. Its sincerity is unquestioned. Its objectives are admirable. And the direct, forceful steps the President and his associates are taking to make it a success, should stir the pride and admiration of every American.

We are proud and glad to do our part. And we are deeply grateful to the American people for the patronage that has enabled us to anticipate the present recovery program and to play our part today. After all, the immense number of men employed by Chevrolet is a direct result of the continued preference America has shown for Chevrolet.

NO FOOTBALL
Following last year's resolution, the New Wilmington school board has decreed that football would not be sponsored by the school this winter. The game has proved a losing proposition, many injuries have resulted, and the teams have not had a successful season for many years.

COOPERATIVES
Several local homes have been vacated in order that college cooperative lodges may be installed. The Chapin home on West Neshannock, recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McKee will be used to house the girls as will the Maxwell house immediately across the street. METHODISTS MEET
After an inspiring sermon by the District Superintendent, Dr. G. C. Farr, the official board of the Methodist Episcopal church convened in the church parlors on Sunday night to delegate laymen to the Conference convention to be held this week in Meadville. B. F. Kauffman and James Minner were appointed to attend the convention. The pastor's salary for the coming year was set and routine business transacted.

SKUNKS PLENTIFUL
The writer noticed a novel sight one evening last week, when in an alley of the town a mother skunk emerged from under a barn and was followed by a litter of four tiny pole-cats. They were decidedly pretty even if a little dangerous. From the barn they disappeared into a sewer pipe.

MOVING
Mrs. Mary McConagha and daughter Isabel, will move from one Lafferty home on West Neshannock to the Crawford Apartments on Market street.

Prof. C. W. McKee, Professor of Economics at Westminster, has moved into the Kauffman home on West Neshannock. The Kauffman's have gone to Beaver Falls where Mr. Kauffman is employed with the A. & P. Company.
K. C. Holm has moved into the Pitzer Block on Market street.
Mrs. C. J. Klumph will be in charge of the boys cooperative south of the Hillside Dormitory.

Braddock High Strong Eleven

New Castle High School Faces Tough Foe In First Game Of Fall Campaign

Head Coach Bridenbaugh Selects Probable Starting Lineup For Game

New Castle high's first football opponent of the 1933 fall campaign is not going to prove easy. Braddock high will give New Castle a stiff battle in the opening here Friday night at Taggart stadium. Usually a team has an easy game for the first one, but Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has given Pa New's sons one of the toughest schools in the Pittsburgh district.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has ceased to smile, and when the head coach ceases to smile, well, it's time to sit up and take notice. Bridenbaugh is just a little bit worried about this opening tussle. He knows full well what kind of a team Braddock high, coached by Ham Hudson, will be and he knows also what to expect. Braddock has a big powerful line and fast backfield. The 6-6 tie with Strong Vincent at Erie last week served warning on New Castle.

Probable Lineup
New Castle has been selected by Head Coach Bridenbaugh as follows:

Right end—Fleming or Perrett.
Right tackle—A. Shellig.
Right guard—Humphrey or Sorto.
Center—Howley.
Left guard—Raskowski.
Left tackle—F. Shellig.
Left end—Kneam or Hitchens.
Quarterback—Ridley.
Left half—Lane.
Right half—C. James.
Fullback—Kominic.

Nine Veterans.
And that team, ladies and gentlemen, contains nine men who were members of the 1932 team. "Bill" Seatch will be used as a reserve fullback to Captain Kominic. The following men have been used in the second team in the scrimmages held at Taggart field: Ends, Tuscano and Thomas; tackles, Palkovitch and Workman; guards, Johns and Gianini; center, McPeak; quarterback, Capitolo; halfbacks, Hamilton and Ostrosky; fullback, Seatch.

Ne-Ca-Hi Band To Appear On Friday

Classy 82-Piece Outfit Will Make Bow At New Castle—Braddock Game

Spectators at the opening football game at Taggart Stadium on Friday night will get a real thrill when Director J. F. Replogle's 82-piece high school band marches down the field to make its first public appearance for the 1933-34 season.

Principal F. L. Orth announced today that the musicians received their uniforms on Tuesday. They have been holding daily rehearsals for their debut.

Requests for the band to make appearances at various functions already are pouring into Mr. Orth's office, and an attempt is being made to accommodate as many as possible. A large number of this year's players were members of the band last term.

Fischer Wins Amateur Medal For Qualifying

Great Total Of 141 Gives Fischer Record For All-Time In Amateur Tourney

SEVERAL PLAYOFFS ON CARD TODAY

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 13.—Swiftly and with the customary bluster and uproar, those "sudden death" eighteen hole rounds of the national amateur golf championship will go into their sprint today while the moans of the dead and dying will echo over Kenwood's rolling foothills. At this moment nobody knows who the victims will be, not even the victims themselves.

For one thing, golf and 18-hole matches are no respecter of prestige. For another, no less than ten men will be playing off for four places in the qualifying field practically at the crack of dawn this morning, so that not only is it doubtful who is going to win but in some cases who is going to play.

Fischer Medalist.

The five-star match of the first round is to couple Eugene Homans, whose dubious distinction it was to furnish the competitive guinea pig for Jones' farewell to golf back in 1930, and Johnny Fischer, the man who broke all qualifying records with his 69 and a total of 141 yesterday. Fischer thus won the medal for the second successive year and, playing before the biased regard of the home town folks, he'll have the featured spot on today's program.

Gustafsons Will Return To India

Carl Gustafson, Wife And Children Will Resume Work
In Mission Fields

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gustafson, missionaries to India, who have been spending a sabbatical period in this city, will return to India to resume their work, leaving New York in two weeks.

This evening at 7:30 in the Gospel
Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson will speak and show pictures of the field work in India.

In 1916 the Gustafsons first left New Castle for India and the sixteen years they have labored there has endeared them to the natives, and they have been instrumental in introducing Christianity into many homes and have made changes in the status of the women with whom they have come in contact, through their Christian teaching.

The Gustafson work under the Christian Missionary Alliance board and are supported by the First Presbyterian church of this city.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

Two thousand casualties and $30-000,000 of property destruction was the total of fire in Pennsylvania last year.

Think of the killing and maiming
of an entire regiment of war-time strength and you have an idea of the price of life and limb that fire is exacting annually in Pennsylv-vania.

Add to that the destruction of 6-000 homes worth $5,000 apiece and you can visualize the annual property loss.

This year, at the present rate,
the cost will be as much as last
year.

The week from October 8 to 14
has been designated Fire Prevention Week. I hope that every Pennsylvanian will cooperate in that celebration.

But we need not wait until Fire
Prevention Week to take every possible step toward cutting down the tremendous loss caused by fire.

The appalling waste resulted from fire is a menace to our national recovery.

Celebration of Fire Prevention
Week is designed to bring forcibly to the attention of the people the danger of fire and to induce them to take an active interest in preventing fire.

United effort and action can curb the unnecessary loss of life and property by fire.

I, therefore, urge all public officials, civic bodies, other organizations, the press, and citizens generally, in every community, to work together toward a common end during Fire Prevention Week.

Besides making an effort to impress upon the people the importance of fire prevention, there should be a practical campaign to rid every community of fire hazards.

Carelessness and neglect are responsible for more than 80 per cent of our fire loss. Much fire prevention work has been done during the past year by State and local agencies. Thousands of fires have been investigated and thousands of fire hazards have been removed.
But this important work goes for-naught unless it is supplemented by the active and willing cooperation of the people.

The people of Pennsylvania have it in their power to reduce fire loss tremendously. May the celebration of Fire Prevention Week bring that fact home to them. Then results will follow automatically.

It is now perfectly plain why
